A PROJECT ECHO® TELE-MENTORING SERIES

HOPE ECHO

Healthy Outcomes from Positive Experiences

Ten monthly sessions that teach the professionals who see children every day how to build resilience in the fifteen minutes they have.

CHILDREN SERVED EACH YEAR

A pediatrician has fifteen minutes. We make them count.

A family walks in carrying real adversity, and the clinician has little training in where to start. That gap, repeated across exam rooms, classrooms, and home visits every day, is what HOPE ECHO closes. A specialist hub team mentors community professionals through ten monthly sessions of case-based learning, and participants leave each one with a tool they can use that day.

Relationships

Safe, stable, nurturing relationships

Environment

Safe, equitable places to live and learn

Engagement

Social and civic belonging

Emotional Growth

Co-regulation and emotional skill

The four HOPE building blocks, from the framework developed by Dr. Robert Sege and Allyson Harper Browne.

WHY THIS CARRIES WEIGHT

The American Academy of Pediatrics named this same concept relational health in its 2021 policy statement, calling safe, stable, nurturing relationships biological necessities for children. HOPE ECHO is how that paradigm reaches practice.

Dr. Shannon Fox-Levine,
MD, FAAP

Medical Director, Center for Child Counseling. Board Chair, Pediatric Council, Florida Chapter of the AAP. President, Palm Beach Pediatric Society. She opens Session 1 and leads the clinical integration session.

The ten sessions

- 1 Foundations of HOPE
- 2 The Science of Resilience
- 3 Relationships
- 4 Environment
- 5 Engagement
- 6 Emotional Growth
- 7 Primary Care & Home Visiting
- 8 Early Childhood Education
- 9 Equity & Culturally Responsive Practice
- 10 Evaluation, Advocacy & Graduation

WHEN

Second Wednesdays, 12:30–1:30 PM ET, October 2026 through July 2027. Live on Zoom, offered statewide across Florida at no cost to participants.

WHO IS IN THE ROOM

Pediatric clinicians, therapists, home visitors, and early childhood educators. This is the inaugural cohort, and it extends our Pediatric Integration Program, already embedded with Bluebird Kids Health and Jupiter Pediatrics.

Choose your level

Every level covers the full 10-session series. Presenting and CME Accreditation are each held by a single sponsor. The CME seat is the one benefit that leaves the screen: your name sits on the certificate every participant keeps.

Be a founding sponsor of the first cohort

This is the first HOPE ECHO series, offered free on Zoom to professionals across Florida. Sponsors make that possible, including the real cost of accreditation so busy clinicians earn credit for time well spent. Founding sponsors are named for the life of the program, and the two exclusive seats are filled first.
